

Listed below is a short list of some of the product brands made by African-American owned manufacturers featuring the Proud Lady symbol. Always look for this symbol to ensure the product you purchase is made by an African-American owned company. Many products have black sounding names, but they are not made by African-American owned companies. The Proud Lady symbol is your only assurance that you are supporting a product that is African-American owned and recycles their dollars in the African American community. Turn the product around and look for the Proud Lady symbol before you purchase your Black History Month Products.
